

Main Idea and Supporting Details

Vocabulary

mimic (v.) Far Out! p. 11	to imitate closely	The harmless snake mimicked the poisonous snake for protection.
wobble (v.) Man O' War p. 18	to move clumsily from side to side	The boy wobbled across the room because he was dizzy.
honored (v.) Baseball's Best p. 32	to treat someone with admiration and respect	The firefighter was honored for saving someone's life.
plunge (v.) Baseball's Best p. 39	to enter something quickly	The diver plunged effortlessly into the water.
consistent (adj.) Baseball's Best p. 42	regular and steady	Joe consistently went to GAP after school because his mom worked late every night.
arachnid (n.) Spiders! p. 6,8	an invertebrate with two body parts, eight legs, and no antennae	Scorpions and ticks are arachnids.
keen (adj.) Skunks p. 12	sharp; very good	A dog's keen senses smelled the fire from far away.
blend (v.) Spiders! p. 36	to look so similar that two things cannot be told apart	The spider blends in with the flower to catch prey.
frolic (v.) Submarines p. 46	to play and run about happily	The children frolicked in the meadow with one another.